Appomattox County Library

Appomattox, Va.
August 30, 1978

Editor Times Virginian
Appomattox, Va.

Dear Mr. Vaughan,

Sometime ago a lady from this community who at one time lived at Clifton Forge, gave me the inclosed clipping from The Daily Review of that place.

It was so very interesting that I immediately sat down and wrote Mr. Woodward and asked if we could have it reprinted in our local paper.

Please be sure to state that it was written by Harry Evans Woodward, who does a weekly column for The Daily Review of Clifton Forge.

Thank you,

Sincerely,
Verna Conner

FROM WHERE I SIT.....
By Harry Woodward

People are scared of Libraries.

How else to explain the fact that when I enter our tho attractive, inviting book repository, I get the feeling I could put on a deer stalker's hat and shoot moose.

All too often I am the sole patron and while I'm selfish enough to relish having the place to myself, the public-spirited side of me worries about the situation. That Library cost plenty and my fellow citizens aren't getting the use of it that's due them. The other day I looked around me, after I had rounded up a couple of good, light summertime tomes and wondered how many local have never set foot inside the doors of this handsome building. Is it, I asked myself, that Clifton Forge having come so late to Public Library status, the people who would like to make use of the Library's services hesitate to come in for fear of appearing ignorant about how to find books. Or is it simply that most people have never discovered the joys of reading. Probably it's a combination of the two factors. And that being the case, let me try to set you at ease.

Let's assume you aren't concerned with reading a work of fiction; you need to know how to refinish furniture, or how to plant corn seed, or cope with an impossible teenager.

If you enter the Library by the front door, straight ahead of you and to your right are a series of tall shelves, running half the width of the building and arranged in rows, back to back. Here you will find non fiction.

Don't be alarmed by all those books. The shelves are neatly labelled as to subject matter: Things like Homemaking, Arts and Crafts, Biographies and their like. Choose your subject and let your eyes drift over the titles until you find what interests you. Can't find it...Okay, now you have two easy choices. By the water fountain is a series of file drawers, arranged alphabetically. Every book in the Library is listed on a separate card, either by author or by title. On the individual card is a number and under that number you will find the book on the shelf.

Still stumped...Can't match the number to the book.... Walk bravely up to the front desk and Mrs. Nicely or her helpful assistant will take you by the hand and lead you to the massive shelf. That's part of what they're there for and you need not feel shy about asking for help. (I lean on the staff almost every time I go to the Library and the staff has never given me one of those how-dumb-can-you-get looks, not even when they straightened me out the day before.)

Now for fiction: It is placed on the shelves alphabetically, by author. If you know the author you want to read, so much to the good. If you don't and are merely searching for a "good" novel, peruse the dust jackets on the books. Most of the Library's books' are encased in such jackets and each gives a brief summary of plot, to help you decide if a specific novel is one that's down your alley. Again, if you need guidance, tell a staff member what sort of reading interests you...Si-Fi, Romantics, Westerns, Detective, Gothics; the Library has something for every taste and you'll be given some down-to-earth recommendations, tailor made to your taste.

Over in the front left corner are comfortable chairs and table, flanking shelves of current magazines. A lovely rainy afternoon can be spent over these periodicals that have been chosen to appeal to a broad variety of interests. There are magazines for those handy with tools and those who'd like to be; for women whose homes are their castles; for arm chair travellers who don't like the wherewithall to trip on and off planes and ships. There are magazines for the person who loves History.

On your way out of the Library, stop at the shelves given over to paperbacks and hard cover books, near the back entrance. All the books you see here are for sale, at bargain prices. Some of them are brand new. They're books of which the Library has duplicates and by purchasing one or two, you provide money to purchase new books for the take out shelves.

As for reading, as that now-corny TV commercial is wont to say, "Try it. You may like it!"

Reading is, after all, a habit. But it may well be the most rewarding, stimulating, interesting habit you'll ever form.

Dear Property Owner:

STROUT SELLS REAL ESTATE -- town and country property. Interested in selling your home, business, farm or any vacant land? If yes, it's important -- and worth a minute's thought.

As the largest real estate firm coast to coast, we have the Greatest Selling Team in Earth. Buyers purchase with confidence at the Office with the friendly STROUT Sign. That's reputation -- and experience. Since 1900! Satisfied buyers and sellers by the hundreds of thousands attest to our fair, honest and efficient business methods.

STROUT REALTY advertises throughout the country, in over a thousand newspapers and magazines. The professional copywriters of our Advertising Department concentrate copy in Major City Newspapers each week. Thus, out-of-towners know us before they ever leave home.

This national advertising program generates Buyers from Everywhere. Skilled interviewers in our Big City Offices relay prospects' requirements to our computer. A weekly list of those wanting our region is sent to us. That means hundreds of new prospects each week...potential buyers of your property!

As a seller, you can avail yourself of this extensive advertising simply by calling your local STROUT Office. A licensed and bonded Representative will be glad to inspect your property and assist you in establishing a marketable value.

Also, from your standpoint, something else makes us different. Our NO BUYER - NO PAY Listing. Why? Because we believe we can sell your property faster than anyone else. This type listing specifies that you pay a commission only when we SELL your property. Otherwise you owe us nothing. That's our NO BUYER - NO PAY way of selling real estate.

In addition to all this, STROUT has an established National Referral System. In cooperation with another nationwide Referral System, we put local buyers and sellers in immediate touch with out-of-town buyers and sellers All Across America. This EXTRA service can help you find a buyer for your property, and it can also provide you with instant help in relocating in any area of your choice.

Your property should match the requirements of many of our thousands of prospects. If it is fairly priced, we can sell it! Call or stop in today.

Cordially,
Chuck Foster
